Hi, I'm Lydia Bae. I'm a freelance digital designer based in London who enjoys creating innovative websites and applications.

I design digital solutions that tell a story, solve a need, educate, activate, and inspire. My intent with my designs is to take care of the user journey, help users achieve their goals, and ultimately drive business success. I hope to find a role where I can contribute my strengths, work with an awesome team, take on adventurous challenges, and make things look pretty.

AWARDS

Christchurch Airport Mobile Website

Best Awards, 2011
Lead Designer

I designed a mobile website for Christchurch International Airport and it was the first mobile website we developed at Terabyte. The website was awarded a Bronze at the Best Design Awards in the Applications category. The mobile website became one of the most useful airport websites with the ease of information display, showing flights and parking information for the airport.

Taste at the Cloud

Webby Honoree, 2012
Lead Designer

I designed a food show event website for "Taste at the Cloud", for New Zealand Trade and Enterprise to help promote NZ food industry suppliers to local and international markets. It was selected as an Official Honoree for the 16th Annual Webby Awards in the Events Category. The website was also a runner up for Best Design in the 2012 Umbraco Awards.

Lindauer - Auckland Art Gallery

Australasia Internet Best
Practice Award, 2010
Designer

The Lindauer website was a digital art gallery of legendary painter Gottfried Lindauer's Maori portraits. I was proud to work on a project with tremendous cultural significance. The website was awarded a 2010 Australia and New Zealand Internet Best Practice Award in the Diversity category.

Epson/NZIPP Iris Professional Photography Awards

Silver & Bronze, 2006
Student

Majoring in photography, I entered this national photography competition and won Silver and Bronze awards in the Student category.
